well fear the effects of trade competition from other ports more favourably situated, but still in their infancy, and thus lacking the matured growth which gives Shanghai its present predominant position. The merchants only just brought to a successful conclusion a stern fight, extending over many years, to secure the proper conservancy of the Huangpu, and the harassing times of the revolution may have left their effects upon the energies of the community. Moreover, the question is being asked in all seriousness. What effect will the railway development of China have upon the port? To that two answers may be given. The one predicts a bright future, giving increased trade, especially to the shipping; the other spells the very reverse, for just as the extension of the railway system of the country may bring augmented trade, it may equally easily, if the proper steps are not taken, carry it away. Between Shanghai and Tientsin the only port which at present offers the opportunities for serious competition is Tsingtao, for the reason that it is almost equidistant in relation to Shanghai to a very fertile and rich part of the country. The point of uncertainty is whether Shanghai is to continue to hold the trade which it at present has, or whether, by offering superior attractions, Tsingtao will be able to conquer it. It would be the most natural thing in the world for the authorities and merchants of Tsingtao to endeavour to do so; and as the German Government has given very special assistance to that settlement, and, moreover, seems anxious to extend its influence in that quarter, they may be able to influence the railway arrangements and tariffs in their favour. We cannot discuss all the details of the conditions, but it is evidently the duty of all interested in the future of Shanghai to insist upon the Chinese Government fixing minimum and maximum rates, and that there be no preferential treatment, and having through booking facilities, and generally to take all necessary steps to enable the port to meet the changing conditions. The distance from Shanghai to Tientsin is only about 800 miles, and if the whole line was placed under one management, the ideal way would be to have the control of the whole length managed from so suitable a centre as Shanghai.

The berth is spacious and special attention has been given to the cabin ventilation, with electric fans in each cabin. She will be leaving London on December 23 and Marseilles on January 4 for Egypt, Ceylon and India.

FORFEITURE OF OPIUM.

Magistrate's Decision.

To-day at the Magistracy Mr. Irving delivered his reserved judgment in an application by the opium farmer for a large quantity of opium, seized on the s.s. Yuen Sang to be forfeited to him. The Magistrate refused the application. An extended report of the judgment will appear in our second edition this evening.

AN INTERRUPTED FEAST.

A man who recently won $5,000 in a Macao lottery entertained his friends at Samshipo on Tuesday, and on Wednesday gave another feast. No one was hurt, and no arrests have been made in connection with the affair.

THE ZOROASTRIAN TRUST FUND.

Court Asked to Construe Trust Deed.

An Interesting Action.

An interesting action affecting the Parsee communities of Hongkong, Canton and Macao, came before the Puisne Judge, sitting in Original Jurisdiction, this morning, his Lordship being asked to construe a deed of trust dated July 30, 1874, under the terms of which the fund known by the name of "The Zoroastrian Charity Fund," is administered. The plaintiffs were Morwanji Poonji Talati, Dinshaw Navjee Sethna, and Ardeshir Byramji Anasli, and the defendant Hormazee Rakhshoo Erani.

The plaintiffs called upon the defendants to enter an appearance for the determination of the following questions arising under the above mentioned deed of trust—

1.—Whether upon the true construction of the said Deed of Trust and of the rules and regulations comprised therein, as subsequently added to or amended, the office of president and of secretary (whether in either case substantive or otherwise) validly be held by one and the same trustee where there are four trustees present in the Colony. 2.—Whether, and upon what consideration and to what extent, if at all, the office of president and secretary can validly be held by one and the same trustee. 3.—Whether the appointment of a secretary from amongst the trustees lies in the hands of the trustees or in the hands of the subscribers to the fund. 4.—Whether the decision of the majority of the trustees of the said deed upon matters relating to the management and administration of the trust fund prevails, and is the decision of the trustees. 5.—Whether in the event of the temporary absence from the Colony of one of the trustees between one annual meeting of subscribers and another the subscribers are entitled to treat such absence as creating a vacancy amongst the trustees. 6.—Whether the taking of legal advice by the trustees or any of them as to the construction of the deed or upon questions arising in connection with the management of the fund amounts to "blamable negligence or misconduct in office or any other reasonable cause within the meaning of rule 22 of the deed. 7.—Whether a president can be appointed for a year and by rotation from amongst the trustees. 8.—Whether the trustees are bound to observe directions given to them by the medium of a resolution passed by a majority of the subscribers to the fund in general meeting regarding the management or administration of the fund, or the form in which notices or reports are issued, or the documents which should accompany them.

There was a ninth question which asked whether the bankers deposit receipts in connection with the fund should be made out in the names of the trustees, and where they should be deposited for safe keeping; as to the signature of cheques as to the holding of the place of meetings of the trustees and the order of business; as to the signing of disbursements from the fund; as to the making of periodical visits by the trustees to the estate held in trust by the fund in each year.

Mr. C. G. Alabaster and Mr. Eldon Potter, barristers, instructed by Mr. H. W. Looker, of Messrs. Deacon, Looker and Deacon, solicitors, appeared for plaintiffs; and Mr. P. C. Jenkin, barrister, instructed by Mr. Elind, of Messrs. Brutton and Hett, solicitors, represented defendant.

Mr. Alabaster said the plaintiffs in this case were most anxious that a shorthand note of the proceedings should be taken to prevent the circulation of garbled versions of the case to the vernacular press, and he asked that in order to make the note as official as possible his Lordship should consent to the shorthand-writer being sworn.

Mr. Jenkin objected to the taking of an official note of the evidence as being unnecessary, but said he did not object if it was to be a luxury of the plaintiffs. He thought there should first be a ruling as to the costs, which should not fall upon the defendants.

His Honour eventually consented to the plaintiffs' shorthand-writer being sworn and reserved the question affecting costs, but with a strong expression of opinion that the employment of the note-taker should not affect the costs of the action.

Mr. Alabaster explained that the summons was an originating summons, taken under Order 54 of the English rules, which had not got its counterpart in the Code of this Colony. It was brought under section 4 of the Code, which enabled the Court to deal with questions of construction and construction only. The Court was asked to construe a certain printed document which contained the rules governing or purporting to govern the Zoroastrian Charity Fund; he dealt in detail with the rules affecting the points which his Lordship was asked to decide, and gave his interpretation of them, and in some cases quoted the legal opinions.

Mr. Jenkin intervened with an objection. He had a serious protest to make against the proceedings being brought at all and the aid of the Court being invoked in a matter of this kind. The aid of the Court was merely invoked to construe a number of rules and regulations which though they constituted what was called a trust deed, amounted to something like the rules of a benevolent or philanthropic fund. He submitted that under section 4 of Order 54 the Court or a Judge was not bound to determine any of the points presented to him in such an action taken on an originating summons. The purpose of such a summons was to prevent litigation, and no litigation could arise in this case. He pointed out that the rules could be altered, modified or cancelled as might be thought necessary.

His Lordship, supposing this matter to be gone into, and I give a ruling, though it may be the right construction they cannot meet together and say "The construction we prefer is so and so; we will alter the rules."

Mr. Alabaster observed that this argument would apply to every article of association of every company. What the plaintiffs wished to know was whether they had done the right thing in the past, and were doing the right thing now, as they did not wish to do anything which might amount to a breach of trust.

Mr. Jenkin, further addressing his Lordship upon his objection, pointed out that within the rules the trustees had the power to make what provision they liked for deciding any of the questions which his Lordship was now asked to construe. There was no purpose in the present action which was absolutely unfounded, would expend trust funds needlessly, and would benefit nobody. The action was not final, and could not remove the cause of friction.

After the point had been further argued his Lordship intimated that he would give his decision upon the point raised by Mr. Jenkin, on Tuesday, to which date the hearing was adjourned.

BANK DIVIDENDS.

WESLEYAN METHODIST CHURCH, WANCHAI.

The friends connected with the above church on Monday arranged their quarterly church tea, and availed themselves of the opportunity to inaugurate Wesleyan Methodist Missionary Society celebrations. In 1913 the Society will have been in existence a century, and in view thereof the Church at home has decided that there shall be centenary services, and also thank offerings for God's blessing on the work during the hundred years that will then close. On Sunday evening the Rev. J. R. Temple preached an appropriate sermon, and reviewed the Society's work, mostly confining himself to the West Indies, West Africa, Ceylon and India. The gathering at the tea and meeting was not very large, seeing that there were other attractions; there were a good many representatives, however, from both branches of His Majesty's Services, as well as a good many civilians. Mr. Abraham, of the naval yard, occupied the chair, and gave an encouraging address, which showed that he at least was in thorough sympathy with the aim that were cherished, and his speech gave a good tone to the meeting.

An old supporter of the Church, Mr. Earle, then spoke, and based his remarks on the thought that "We Europeans owe much in many ways to the Chinese, and, therefore, we ought to give of our means both as a thanksgiving to God, and also because we get much in many ways from these people."

The Chaplain then gave a short speech, and traced the development of the Society's work in South China since 1851 when the Rev. G. Piercy came to Hongkong, having responded to the appeal of some Methodist soldiers, who were stationed on the island. He pointed out how, in spite of difficulties and indeed fierce opposition, the work gradually spread from Canton to Peking, down in the Suiui district, and also throughout the Hwang Shan prefecture. He also traced the work along the West and the North Rivers. Many incidents of interest were referred to. As an example of opposition that was encountered at the beginning, the following fact was quoted. The owner of the first house which was let to Mr. Piercy as a residence, was threatened by the dwellers in the street, for he was charged with being a traitor to the House of Han. He, in great terror, fled into the country and hid himself. The enraged K'ai Fung then seized a nephew, and charged him before the magistrate. He was hung into prison, and kept there for some weeks. On one occasion another prisoner died. The jailers took the corpse, and bound it to the living man, and the latter was chained to the former for some hours, and no sympathies could induce any one to release him from such a hateful position. The unfortunate man was only released after a big fine had been paid. But those days had passed. The speaker pointed out that the Society at home hoped to raise £250,000. The gifts made by the members of the Church in Hongkong would go to assist the natives in their efforts to build a larger and more suitable church than they now possess. The need of a more commodious building has long been felt, for the congregation on Sundays fills the place to suffocation. Promises were made at the meeting last evening amounting to about $1,400.

Votes of thanks to the ladies and to others who had assisted brought in the roughly mosaic-tiled and indeed the mosaic meeting to a close. It is certain that much more will be added to this sum, and if any readers, assuming these lines to be moved to assist us in this big task to which we have given our best assistance, will be so kindly recognised.

CHARGE OF UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF COAL.

A sampan man and a cargo boat owner were charged with being in the unlawful possession of a quantity of coal, before Mr. C. D. Melbourne this morning.
Mr. D. Lewis, of Messrs. Johnson, Stokes and Master, appeared for the defence.
Inspector McFarley deposed that at 7 o'clock this morning at Observation Place he saw the second defendant's junk with a large quantity of coal on board which had come from a Japanese steamer, and it was covered over with deck sweepings. On being questioned the man said it was all rubbish. It was afterwards found that over three tons of good coal were concealed underneath.

For the defence it was contended that the second defendant received a gift from the chief officer of the Japanese steamer allowing him to take the deck sweepings. He provided the coal hire, and received no payment other than the coal. The gift was produced in Court.
Inspector McFarley said the man could not produce a receipt he had paid. The defendant said the coal produced was worth about $2 a ton. He had eleven coals whose wages came to $15.80, and in addition there was the cost of the junk. The coal cost at least $9 a ton.

Mr. Melbourne said he had worked out the cost, and there did not seem to be much difference between what he spent and what he would receive for the coal.
Inspector McFarley said the sweepings were worth something; he could get $40 that afternoon for them.
The sampan man was discharged, and the other defendant was remanded.

TO PAY WITH HIS LIFE.

Opium Dealer's Offer.

At the Police Court today, before Mr. C. D. Melbourne, two men were charged with being in the unlawful possession of seven mace of gross opium and nine mace of opium dress. One of the men on being found guilty and fined $22 or in default three weeks, said: "It is no use. I have got no money, and if you want me to pay you can take my life."

THE MURDERED SEPOY.

Prisoner Committed To Sessions.

The charge preferred against a Sepoy of the 12th Baluchistan Regiment, of murdering a comrade by shooting him with a Service rifle at Sha Kong Miu camp, near Castle Peak, on September 29, was further investigated by Mr. C. D. Melbourne at the Magistrate's court this afternoon. The prisoner, it will be remembered, entered a plea of guilty at the first hearing.

Among the exhibits in Court were the rifle with which it is alleged the murder was committed, and a clip of five service cartridges, three of which had been discharged.
Among the witnesses called this afternoon by Mr. P. M. Hodgson, assistant Crown Solicitor, who is in charge of the prosecution, was Sub-assistant Surgeon Chalam Jalani, of the 24th Hazara Mountain Battery. The doctor stated that he was called to the camp, and found the deceased upon his bed, upon which there was much blood. Life was extinct, death being caused in his opinion by a bullet wound which, in his opinion, was caused by a shot from a Service rifle. The bullet entered the right side of the back, and came out of the left side of the chest. This was the only wound.
Prisoner was committed for trial at the next Criminal Sessions.

THE AMENDMENT OF SUBSCRIPTIONS.
In the previous last night an extraordinary general meeting of members of the Hongkong Cricket Club was held under the presidency of Mr. Frank Maitland, for the purpose of making certain amendments in the rules of the Club with regard to the subscriptions payable by members.

The Chairman said that it was proposed to increase the subscription to enable them to redeem the debentures upon the pavilion. They were under contract to pay off $1,500 a year, but for the past two or three years they had paid nothing, and the Club had actually lost money. If the proposed alterations were agreed to, non-playing members, including croquet players, would pay a subscription of $10 and no entrance fee, while civilian playing members would pay an entrance fee of $20 and $2 per month for eight months from September 1st each year. Present Royal Navy members and Army members would pay $15 entrance fee, and $3 per month for eight months from September 1st; at their option, without entrance fee, $5 per month, with the proviso that should a member desire, after joining, to pay an entrance fee, he might do so and be granted a rebate of $3 per month for any months for which he might have paid $6. Non-resident Royal Navy members and Army members would pay $6 per month, but not more than $24 in any one playing season. He proposed the adoption of the alteration suggested.

Mr. H. A. Nisbet seconded.
Mr. J. W. Lee Jones moved an amendment that the subscriptions remain as at present. He was the oldest playing member of the Club, and it seemed to him something to be marvelled at if a Club with an annual income of about $6,000 could not pay its way. He thought the committee should go into the question of ways and means. By continually increasing the subscriptions they might keep out some young members, and they had to remember that the Club was not now the only one in the Colony.

Mr. A. O. Braun seconded the amendment, which on being put to the meeting was declared lost.

An amendment that croquet players be considered playing members was lost; as was a second that tennis players who did not play cricket should pay $2 instead of $3 per month.
The original motion was then put to the meeting and carried.

County Championship Result.

The close of the county championship competition finds Yorkshire first with 72 points, followed by Northants (70-58), Kent (65-60), and Lancashire (64-70). Warwick, last year's champions, have fallen to the ninth position.

PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

The first practice of the coming season will take place at 5.30 p.m. on Monday, October 21st, in the City Hall, and casual practices will be continued on subsequent Mondays throughout the season. The work to be put into rehearsal is German's fine Opera "Merry England" of which it is hoped to give a concert performance early next year. It is to be hoped that this innovation in the style of work adopted by the Society will meet with complete success. "Merry England" has been produced by many of the home societies during the past few years in concert form with varying success, and no doubt its production by the local society will be looked forward to with interest.

THE SIX POWERS LOAN

DISCUSSION IN THE COMMONS.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

LONDON, Oct. 10.
Lord Faber, M. P., asked, in a statement on the Chinese Loan, whether the Government were hostile to the Crisp Loan and why?
Mr. F. D. Adland, in reply, recounted the objects of the Six Power Agreement, and said that the principle of the conditions that had been considered essential for any loan must be maintained, but that this was not incompatible with a fair consideration of any amendments that China might suggest. It would be most undesirable to break up the Agreement, but there was no intention of maintaining it for the purpose of imposing harsh or unreasonable conditions upon China. "The Crisp loan was opposed because while the negotiations with regard to the Six Powers' Loan were proceeding, we considered that we were not free to borrow elsewhere, and that we were under an honourable obligation to oppose any outside loan, and that, furthermore, so far as we were aware, that loan did not afford adequate guarantees for its proper expenditure."

SEIZURE OF OPIUM.

Magistrate's Judgment.

At the Magistrate's court today Mr. Irving gave judgment in the application of an opium farmer—represented by Mr. W. E. L. Shenton, solicitor—to have returned to him a quantity of opium which had been seized on the steamer Yuen Sang.

Mr. P. M. Hodgson, Assistant Crown Solicitor, opposed the application.

Mr. Irving, in his judgment, said the farmer having applied to have the forfeited opium delivered to him, he had to prove two things—Firstly, that the opium was not covered by a certificate; and secondly that he was not privy to its being brought on board ship. He had given evidence denying both the issue of the certificate and the privacy. The evidence offered by the farmer on the question of privacy appeared to be all that could be required of him. The farmer must prove not only his moral innocence, but that he had not already dealt in and made his profit out of the opium in question. This interpretation appeared to agree with the intention of the Ordinance. Opium smuggled out of the country must—assuming privacy—have been first smuggled in by others than the farmer, and the smuggling in of opium by others was in direct opposition to the farmers' interest. It was therefore quite natural that on the detection of such opium whilst being smuggled out again, the farmer should have a claim on it to compensate him for the loss which he might have incurred had it been disposed of in the colony, such risk of loss having been provided against by the farmer by the upkeep of a costly Revenue staff. But if the smuggled opium was certified opium upon which the farmer had already made his profit, he had nothing to lose from its export. On the contrary, contraband export traffic in certificated opium must affect him beneficially, since it must swell his sales beyond the amount required for local consumption. Clearly then there was no reason why he should get a profit out of such smuggled opium when found. It must be for that reason that the Ordinance distinguished between certificated and uncertificated opium. It followed that the evidence needed to establish the first condition must be of a much more perfect nature than that needed to prove more absence of privacy. The proof would be easy if the farmer were by a distinguishing mark able to tell his tins from those sold by the farmer in Macao. The farmer could not ask this Section so interpreted as to enable him to win in all cases. The application would be dismissed.

Mr. Shenton asked for a re-hearing. It would mean, he said, that perhaps the books of the opium farmer would have to be produced.

Mr. Irving said that he had heard the evidence, and he did not think he could go on with the case in that way.

Mr. Shenton said he applied for a re-hearing on two facts, and Mr. Irving granted the application.

Mr. Hodgson said the opium is forfeited to the Crown.

Mr. Shenton asked that this be held in abeyance, but no order was made by the Magistrate with regard to this application.
